

products. I recently did a Reaktor 4 demonstration for red bull in Detroit, and discussed how NI products and technology is changing the music industry. Native Instruments technology will save and reinvent electronic music from Detroit. Mark my word. I am on a mission personally to demonstrate this.

Will you be doing more events for Native instruments? What is next on your agenda?

I do several Native Instrument demonstrations throughout Detroit on a regular basis. You can catch some at record time, and several other locations throughout Detroit. I plan on doing lots of producing. Native Instruments software has reshaped my creative process, and has taught me things correctly. In other words, I'm ready!

Do you have a website where people can listen to some of your mixes?

For more info please visit www.pthf.net

You can also check out my own web site, for more info on me, and my newly launched recording label, deep transportation:

www.deeptransportation.com

In the near future, you will also be able to find more information regarding NI products, recording tips, and tutorials.

www.recordtime.com

Image provided by Mike Huckaby

